

AAS Criminal Justice Administration

Courses descriptions

CJUS 101 INTRODUCTION TO CRIMINAL JUSTICE - Basic introduction to crime, law, and justice; a discussion of the criminal law and its relationship to criminal justice, an overview of the law- enforcement field, adjudication process, the correctional system, and juvenile justice system will be studied. (3-0-3) Scott

CJUS 200 POLICE ADMINISTRATION - An introductory course in the role of police administration of criminal justice and crime control. The course will provide an overview of police administration, line and auxiliary functions. (3-0-3) Scott
Police Administration

CJUS 201 RULES OF CRIMINAL EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURES - An examination of the Federal and Louisiana criminal procedural laws affecting arrest, search and seizure, trial and post- conviction remedies. (3-0-3)
Lester

CJUS 204 CRIMINOLOGY -A course that provides students with an understanding of how theory and application relate to one another, examinations and explanations of crime and criminal behavior; present various new sociological perspectives on crime causation. (3-0-3) Davis

CJUS 205 LOUISIANA CRIMINAL LAW - The criminal statutory provisions in the State of Louisiana will be studied. The study also includes interpretation of the statutory criminal law as set forth by the State and U.S. Supreme Court. (3-0-3) Lester (should this be limited to louisiana)
LA Criminal Law

CJUS 221 JUDICIAL PROCESS - A study of the structure, organization and administration of federal and state court systems; with special attention to the criminal courts. The basic functions of the courts will be examined. (3-0-3) Lester

CJUS 230 SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT - In-depth individual study of a current problem or topic in law enforcement which is not addressed in other courses will be done. Under faculty supervision, the students select appropriate topics, study and prepare extensive written reports for submission to the supervising faculty member. (3-0-3)
Scott
Special Problems in Law Enforcement

CJUS 231 CORRECTIONAL SYSTEMS - Changes in America correctional philosophy, administration and techniques, including the shift from institutional incarceration to community- based correctional programs. (3-0-3) Davis

Correctional System

CJUS 261 PRINCIPLES OF SUPERVISION - The of working with people is studied. The course illustrates how supervision relates to basic managerial functions, and contributes to the attainment of business objectives. (3-0-3) Davis

CJUS 298 CRIMINAL JUSTICE PRACTICUM - Research and field work, under staff supervision, at selected sites. Students must complete one hundred thirty-four (134) hours for completion of the class. (3-0-3) Scott
Practicum in Criminal Justice