The Mission of the Radiologic Technology Program

The Radiologic Technology Program of Southern University at Shreveport offers an Associate of Applied Science Degree, which prepares students for careers in Radiography. Dedicated to excellence in Radiography education, the program promotes an environment, which fosters the development of critical thinking, creativity, problem-solving, and cooperative learning through a wide range of instructional methods. The program's offerings include learning experiences from a variety of disciplines to provide a diverse foundation for science and radiography. Using the classroom and clinical setting as the main thrust for enhancing the learning process, students are prepared to function as qualified radiographers in hospitals, clinics, and physicians' offices.

Program Goals

- Goal 1- Students will demonstrate clinical competence.
- Goal 2- Students will develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills.
- Goal 3- Students will demonstrate effective written and oral communication skills

QUALIFICATIONS

Personal

Applicants must be 18 years of age or older. Individuals must be in good physical and mental health. Good physical and mental health is necessary for students to meet physical performance standards and possess the clarity of mind needed for healthcare duties. Applicants must be able and willing to work with sick or disabled persons. They should also be able to think critically using sympathetic, pleasant, cordial, versatile, and ambitious reasoning. Applicants must also be dependable, responsible, and reliable. Students will be responsible for the rules and regulations in the University Student Handbook, the Program Student Handbook, and the ARRT Code of Ethics. Upon receipt of your application to the program, you will be required to submit your background checks to the State of Louisiana and the National Sexual Predator. Convictions hindering your participation in clinical activities will prohibit your acceptance into this program. If you have specific questions about this requirement, please make an appointment with the program director and prepare to present any questionable criminal history to ARRT for ethics review. Applicants must be willing to work with low levels of radiation exposure.

- Possess a high school diploma or equivalent
- Have completed twelve (12) semester hours at Southern University at Shreveport by the application deadline.
- Score on the ACT or Southern University Placement Test sufficient to place the student in college- level courses; and possess a solid educational background in Biology/Science.
- Have acquired a cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 in all college courses

Students are conditionally accepted into the program. After conditional acceptance to the radiography program, proof of the following additional requirements must be submitted to the radiography program by the required dates: (Please note any associated fees will be the student's responsibility.)

- a. A completed physical examination form includes verifying current vaccinations and titers (Hepatitis B, Rubella, Rubeola, Mumps, PPD, Diphtheria-Tetanus, Varicella and COVID status).
- b. A copy of the American Heart Association's current certification in "CPR for the Health Care Worker." before entering the clinic.
- c. Students are advised that influenza vaccinations are also a requirement each Fall semester as mandated by various clinical settings.
- d. Acceptable Drug Screening and Criminal Background Checks. All allied health students are required to submit a pre-clinical urine drug screen according to the policy of the Allied Health Sciences and Nursing Programs at SUSLA. The drug screen is completed at the student's expense. At their discretion, clinical sites may also require an additional drug screening and a criminal background check before allowing students into the clinical setting. The clinical facilities (hospitals, etc.) require criminal background checks before students attend the clinical sites. In addition, SUSLA and the clinical sites may require random drug testing or drug testing for reasonable cause. Generally, the urine drug test screens for alcoholic beverages, illegal drugs, or drug-impaired judgment while in the clinical setting. Testing positive for the screening or evidence of tampering with a specimen will disqualify students from participation in the clinical assignment.
- e. In addition to drug screening for patients' and healthcare workers' safety, allied health students must also undergo a background check performed by Southern Research at the student's expense. Your acceptance into the program at SUSLA will not be final until SUSLA has received your background check information from the reporting agencies and the background check is clear of disqualifying offenses. As evidenced by a criminal background check, certain criminal activities may disqualify students from clinical participation. Students are advised that the inability to gain clinical education experiences can result in failure to meet program objectives and outcomes. These circumstances may prevent final acceptance into or progression through the program and ultimately result in dismissal from the program.
 - In keeping with the program's due process policies, if a student disagrees with the accuracy of the information obtained, s/he may request a confirmatory test and or a review of the background information's accuracy. All requests must be made in writing to the Dean of Allied Health Sciences and Nursing and must include relevant information or extenuating circumstances supporting the request. A designated committee will review the results and the request and make the final decision regarding the student's request. The student will be notified in writing of the committee's decision within ten (10) working days

Note:

Certificate Eligibility Because the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists (ARRT) can deny certification, applicants with any of the listed violations below should complete an Ethics Pre-Application Review (available at www.arrt.org) before entering clinical setting, or more than six months before program completion. These violations include:

- Criminal proceedings including misdemeanor charges and convictions, felony charges and convictions, a military court-martial
- Disciplinary actions were taken by a state or federal regulatory authority or certification board; or
- Honor code violations.

The Louisiana State Board of Radiologic Technologists Examiners can also deny licensure if the board feels that such denial is in the public's interest.

Applicants who have prior arrest or convictions for a felony or misdemeanor other than a traffic citation are advised to seek clarification of eligibility to sit for the ARRT Registry examination before entering the clinical program. The ARRT does maintain the standards of conduct, and a felony may exclude an applicant. Applicants should inform the Program Director and complete the ARRT Pre-Application Review of Eligibility for Certification when accepted into the program. Your clinical acceptance is conditional. Applicants that are not cleared by the ARRT conditional acceptance will be withdrawn. Please visit www.arrt.org, request for ethics review. The fee associated with this Application is $100.00 and should be mailed directly to the ARRT.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment or to take another adverse action against you must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your "file disclosure"). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - · a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - · you are the victim of identify theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - · your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - · you are on public assistance;
 - · you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.

- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited "prescreened" offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-567-8688.
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:
